

Third Party Liability in the Release of Old Survey Plans

- Do you make the sale of old survey plans a core part of your survey practice?
- Do you manage the risk associated with the use of old surveys by third parties?
- Do you want a better understanding of how such risk might be managed?

This webinar¹ reviews the legal framework by which liability to third parties can arise and makes suggestions for how to:

- reduce the risk;
- use strategies that start with the formation of your relationship with your client;
- assist in your handling of possible exposure by better educating your clients and the public; and
- consider future issues in managing spatial data risks and blending with crowd-sourced data.
