

Survey Law 2

The overall purpose of Survey Law 2 is to build on the foundation laid out in the prerequisite¹ course: Survey Law 1, with a special emphasis on evaluation of evidence and special circumstances encountered in problematic and natural boundaries. Understanding the workings of the legal system and the legal process is essential for regulated professionals entrusted to make ethical and defensible opinions that have the potential of being reviewed by a court.

Just like in Survey Law 1, there will be 2 online lectures per week: a “live” one on Wednesday evenings from 6 pm to 7:30 pm EST and a pre-recorded one later in the week. For more information, consult the syllabus. Please note that the textbook: Principles of Boundary Law in Canada can be purchased directly on line from the publisher.

The fee for this course is $850 plus HST. Payment to AOLS is only through Four Point Learning (4PL). 4PL delivers survey law courses as agent for and on behalf of the Association of Ontario Land Surveyors.

The fee cannot be treated as tuition under the Income Tax Act. No refunds are issued 30 days after course start date. There is no academic credit available upon successful completion of this course.
